INTRODUCTION.

---

THE insolvency laws of Massachusetts originated with Statutes 1838, chapter 163. This Act went into operation on August 1, 1838, and conferred jurisdiction on the judge of probate for the county within which the debtor resided, or in which he had his usual place of business, and upon every master in chancery appointed for such county. The act provided for the appointment of a clerk in each case, to keep a record of all proceedings and to preserve all papers duly filed. The record of the proceedings in each case, with all the papers filed therein, to be enclosed together, and at the termination of the proceedings to be deposited in the probate office of the county, and be there preserved under the care of the register of probate.

Statutes 1848, chapter 304, transferred all jurisdiction of judges of probate and masters in chancery in cases of insolvency to commissioners of insolvency.

Courts of record to be called courts of insolvency were established, one in each county, by Statutes 1856, chapter 284. In Suffolk County this court was publicly opened July 21, 1856.

By Statutes 1858, chapter 93, the office of judge of probate of wills and for granting letters of administration, and the office of judge of the court of insolvency, were abolished and the office of judge of probate and insolvency established. By the same statute the offices of register of probate and of register of insolvency were abolished and the office of register of probate and insolvency established.

The State insolvency laws were suspended during the periods of operation of U. S. Bankruptcy laws as follows :

U. S. Bankruptcy Act of 1841 went into operation on February 1, 1842. Repealed March 3, 1843.

U. S. Bankruptcy Act of 1867 went into operation on June 1, 1867. Repealed September 1, 1878.

U. S. Bankruptcy Act of 1898 went into operation on July 1, 1898.
